

Project: Queen Alexandra Hospital (QAH), Portsmouth Client: Carillion Building

Background

This £280 million PFI hospital construction and refurbishment project is due for completion in late 2009. QAH is located in the Cosham district of Portsmouth, where these new facilities will bring all acute services together on one site, to create a state-of-the-art healthcare facility for the people of Portsmouth and South East Hampshire.

When complete the new facilities will provide:

- 1,072 inpatient beds
- 96 medical & surgical assessment beds
- 116 day care beds
- 25 renal dialysis stations
- 20 main operating theatres
- 2,236 car parking spaces

The challenges

The major challenge of this project was to deliver a major redevelopment of an operational hospital without impacting on existing hospital services and the local community.

Specific WyseGroup solutions provided

Working closely with our client Carillion Building, this project involved managing many dynamic elements; from initial site set up and logistics management to manpower provision and specialist services.

- Temporary power and services installation - WysePower
- Project enabling works - WysePower
- Site set up - WysePower
- Security and project induction management - WyseLogistics
- Delivery management - WyseLogistics
- Waste management - WyseLogistics
- Multi-trade Teams - WyseLabour
- Operative supply - WyseLabour

Results / Successes

A key element of success has been the maintenance of excellent communications with the construction team and hospital personnel, as well as the general public.

The multiple service provision by WyseGroup companies delivered major efficiencies for our client and resulted in additional services contracts being awarded.

- Multi-skilled packages delivered to target and within budget
- Major cost savings delivered in the area of waste management
- Central co-ordination of multi-services ensured both cost and operational benefits, and contributed to minimising construction impact of hospital services and the local community
